At Schoolcraft the snow is four inches deep and is still falling; while at Portland and Flint its average depth is two inches; but owing to almost a hurricane it has drifted to much greater depth. The damage to crops is very great.

Terrible Floods.

PITTSBURG, Pa., 1.—The most terrible floods in the history of the United States occurred here yesterday afternoon by the sudden freshet in the north fork of the river east of Johnstown in the Allegheny Mountains. The flood has resulted in an awful catastrophe. The reservoir above Johnstown broke about five o'clock and an immense volume of water rushed down to the city, carrying with it death and destruction. Houses with their occupants were swept away and scores, probably hundreds of people perished. The wires are all down and railways washed out, but the latest reliable information received from Johnstown comes through the Pennsylvania railroad officials, who aver that over 200 dead bodies have been counted floating down the stream at Johnstown alone; while along the line many additional lives have been lost. It is asserted that there are but two houses in Johnstown proper entirely above the water line. A special train bearing the Pennsylvania officials and a large number of newspaper men, left this city for scene, one despatch says fifteen hundred people have been drowned. The town of Southfork, which contained 2,000 inhabitants lay in the course of the flood, which swept down to Johnstown, and it is believed that four-fifths of the town was carried away. Four miles lower down was the village of Mineral Point with 800 people. It seems difficult to hope that any of them have escaped. Six miles further down was the town of Conemaugh with 2,500 inhabitants, but in this case the formation of the town afforded some chance of escape. The town itself was devastated. Woodside, with 2,000 people, lay still further down. It suffered greatly.

SINGHAWAY, 3.—The first accounts sent of the Johnstown disaster are far better than the estimates placed on the extent of the calamity, and instead of 2,000 or 3,000 probably the death list will reach 8,000. Many say it is 10,000. It is now known that two passenger trains, two sections of the day express on the Pennsylvania road have been thrown into the maddened current and the passengers drowned. These trains were standing when the tide water like a catapult came down upon them with such resistless force that the heavy trains, locomotives, pullmans and all were overturned and swept down the torrent and were lodged against a great stone viaduct along with forty-one railway locomotives from Johnstown round house. The heavy machinery and ponderous framework on the Gastier mill, the accumulated debris of more than 1,000 houses, furniture, bridges, lumber drift and human beings, the low arches of the stone viaduct were choked up immediately and the water backed over the entire level of the valley upon which the city stood to a depth of about 38 feet to the water works. In the great sea thus formed hundreds, perhaps thousands of people were struggling for their life. The scene today is one of the most harrowing possible for imagination to conceive. The accumulated drift gorged up at the viaduct to a height of 40 feet and then took fire from the upsetting of stoves and lamps. Then were strong men made sick at the sights as the flames crackled and roared among dry timber, floating houses, numerous bodies were seen pinioned between house roofs, locomotives, iron beams, passengers; and pullman and baggage cars, the greedy flames were licking their diet of human flesh. The scene was terrible beyond description. It is impossible to narrate many pathetic incidents that occurred on all sides. At Morrell 45 bodies were laid out waiting to be identified. At Nineveh, nine miles down the stream, 108 bodies mostly women and children were laid out in the sawmill, and additions were being made by wagon loads at the same time, which were being picked on the meadows, over which the great tide had swept with the fury of a demon. Each hour reveals some new and horrible story of suffering and outrage and every succeeding hour brings news of the swift and merited punishment meted out to the fiends who have dared to desecrate the dead and to torture the already half-crazed victims of the cruelest catastrophes. As roads to the lands round about are opened, tales of almost indescribable horror come to light, and deeds of the vilest nature perpetrated in the darkness of night are brought to light. The fingers of the corpses have been cut off to obtain rings and other valuables. In several cases maddened people pursued the fiends and strung them up to the nearest tree. Shocking sights have become so common The Full Extent of the Damage Cannot be Realized.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., 4.—The full extent of the Johnstown flood and holocaust can never be realized except by those who are called upon to witness the horrible scenes which seem to multiply rather than diminish. The calamity was so great, the event so frightful and the result so unparalleled that a feeling of cold numbness resulted from the mere contemplation of such scenes. Its full magnitude cannot be told. This was a day of solid work. Hundreds of laborers are arriving here, but thousands are needed and unless they are obtained soon, there will be serious trouble. Every place where debris is collected, dead bodies are buried and the only way to recover them is to tear away the rubbish. This will be the work of weeks, unless one immense gang of laborers are secured at once. When the corpses are found, they are taken to the nearest dead house and carefully washed, they are then laid out in rows to wait identification. Cards are pinned to their breasts as soon as they are identified and the name will be marked on the head boards at their graves. There will be no public ceremony, no funeral dirge and but few mourners at the graves. About 2,300 bodies have been recovered so far. Relief funds are being organized in all the principal cities of the United States.

Negotiations for Exclusion of Chinese.

LONDON, 30.—The English negotiations with the Chinese Government for a treaty regulating and restricting Chinese immigration to the Australian colonies are at a dead lock. They were commenced last summer somewhat reluctantly by Lord Salisbury on the urgent representation of the colonies, but it was always felt in the British Foreign Office that they could not result in anything satisfactory to the Australians, especially as the Chinese Government had just then blankly refused to ratify a similar treaty with the United States. Absolutely nothing has been done towards a settlement, not because the British Minister is negligent or indifferent, but because the Chinese can not be got to agree to the first basis of an agreement. The attitude they take up is virtually this: "Your colonies," they say, have passed statutes preventing Chinese immigration to their shores, which are in flat defiance of our treaties. They have, in addition, treated Chinese subjects with hardships and illegality and now you ask us to make a treaty with you to enable you to do that which you have already done. Pass laws if you like, but do not expect us to be participants in such improper conduct or to deprive our subjects of the rights which are theirs by the very treaties which you yourselves compelled us to sign."

SMALL FRUIT.

It is to be hoped that Alberta farmers will devote some attention to the cultivation of small fruits. That currants and gooseberries can be profitably grown was proved conclusively last year and if the culture of small fruits was generally gone into, a great deal of money which goes to British Columbia and California to buy fruit could be kept in Alberta. In Montana they are devoting considerable attention to the cultivation of small fruits. The Rocky Mountain Husbandman of a recent date remarked:—"The tame variety of gooseberries grown by our farmers and gardeners are very fine and prolific, but the wild berries of our mountains are the nicest flavored. It requires a great deal of sugar for wild berries, but they are very nice, and when transplanted into our gardens and cultivated, yield well and grow large."

OKLAHOMA'S BUSTED BOOM.

For the benefit of the Edmonton Bulletin we publish the following from the Philadelphia Record:—"It appears that the rush to Oklahoma was a rush of speculators, and not a movement of bona fide settlers. Now that the 'town-plot' gentry have come and gone, there is a sadly diminished population. About 2,000 of the 10,000 quarter sections of land have been taken up. There is no push about further entries. The extra clerks in the land offices have been discharged. Oklahoma has fallen from its dizzy pre-eminence among the milk-and-honey regions of the earth to a common place, Kansas, sage-brush, red-earth level. A new Utopia must be found. Now that it is all over it is pleasant to think that the dudes were not solid and substantial people. They were mainly persons who intended to dupe others—the fringe of froth that precedes the advancing wave of civilization.—Philadelphia Record."

THE SEMI-RANGE PLAN.

According to all accounts the system of monster ranches is gradually giving way to the semi-range system as it is called, which is an adaption of the range system to the system of mixed farming. The "Rocky Mountain Husbandman" of a recent date remarked:—"There is a good future for the beef grower. The range owner is gradually coming to the semi-range plan, which is most secure, and soon our herds will be restored to their original numbers and there will be less risk than formerly. All recognize the importance of home ranches, of putting up hay, fencing pastures, etc., and the time is not distant when the cattle grower will feel as secure as the wool grower. The hard winter which precipitated a loss of 50 per cent of the sheep in Montana, has resulted in the wool growers becoming about as securely fixed as any class in Montana although many lost heavily, and the lesson was a severe one. The same state of things is growing out of cattle losses of a few winters ago. The loss was severe and crippled many growers but they are getting on their feet again and are preparing to avoid such disasters by preparing hay and pastures, and the splendid calf crop makes all hands happy."

BREEDING FOR SIZE.

In the preface to the report of the London show, 1888, of hunters, brood mares, fillies and thorough-bred stallions, by Mr. Charles Armstrong, we find the following sensible remarks on breeding from big and little horses:—

"Size is a great advantage when it is accompanied by strength, quality and soundness; but those who breed for size at the sacrifice of other good qualities will repent when 'tis too late."

"The generality of small hunters are at a discount in the open market and do not pay for breaking; whereas there is a large margin of profit for the breeder who is fortunate enough to combine size and power with quality. How, in the face of this well established fact, anyone can breed from ordinary small stock seems unaccountable. There are in England many hunters standing the full height of 16 hand to 16.1 that also possess as much quality as the smaller horses can boast. As a model, I may mention Lord Fitzwilliam's "Xenophon" who stands about 16.1, and yet is built on the same short-legged lines as the beautiful little "Peppermint," who walks under 15.2.

"Some like a small stallion to mate with a big, coarse mare, with a hope of getting quality from the former and size from the latter. A long and careful experience in breeding horses brings me to the conclusion that the above desiderata would not be realized more often than once in ten foals so bred, and the natural tendency being always towards deterioration—or, more correctly speaking, towards the unimproved original jungle or prairie stock—the foal so hope fully bred from the small, blood horse of quality and the coarse, sour mare of size is most likely to inherit the small limbs and other weaknesses of the horse without his quality, together with the coarse, unseemly head and other desirable parts of the mare without her size. The successful small stallions are those that have descended from big stock, and there is no serious objection to the use of such horses, though I fail to see how they are better than a horse belonging to a family whose members will grow to a full 16-hand standard."

Although the importation of Arabs and other eastern horses has played such an important part in the formation of the English thorough-breds, that is no reason whatever for again resorting to the Arab. Having spent two centuries in a well-sustained effort to obtain size, let us not for a moment entertain the idea of a retrograde movement to a pony breed, however otherwise attractive. The idea is too preposterous to need further comment."

DISEASES IN YOUNG STOCK.

Of the diseases common to young cattle the most fatal, perhaps, are scour and huck, or hooce. The former is not, strictly speaking, a disease, but a symptom of disease—a sign of some irritant in the bowels. The causes to which it is ascribed are such as withholding the first milk or "beastings," not giving milk often enough, and giving more at a time than the young calf can digest; too sudden change of food, exposure to wet and cold, and housing in a dirty, damp, badly ventilated building, with insufficient clean, dry straw as bedding. The old remedy for this complaint was alum. Some farmers give out paper in whiskey toddy. In no case, however, should astringents or opiates be used with a view to stopping the scouring until the irritant has been carried off by a laxative. Give first a little castor oil—two to four table-spoonfuls—with half a teaspoonful of ground ginger, in a little warm gruel. If the diarrhoea should be due to acidity, two to three ounces of lime water may be added to the drinking milk, or half a teaspoonful of soda carbonate. If there should be pain, two teaspoonfuls of laudanum may be given. The calf should be comfortably and warmly kept, and fed on mucilaginous drinks, such as boiled linseed or gruel. When the young animal is very low, half a wineglassful of brandy or whiskey and a few raw eggs may be given in the gruel.

Huck or hooce is caused by small thread worms or round worms (Strongylus micurus) infesting the windpipe and bronchial tubes of the animal. The disease is contracted by the calves grazing on wet, low lying grounds, or by leaving them out at night late in the autumn. It can be avoided by grazing the young animals on dry and high ground, and, if necessary, bringing them into the yards every night, even during the height of summer. The turpentine drench is a very good remedy for hooce, if tried in time. Mix half a pint of spirits of turpentine with two pints of linseed oil and four ounces of sulphur, and give each animal affected a wineglassful of the mixture, repeating the dose, if necessary, on the third day. The calves should be fasted for twelve hours before drenching, and no food should be given for two hours afterwards. A simpler remedy than drenching is to make the animals inhale the fumes of burning sulphur, confining them during the process in a close building. The calves should be supplied with plenty of stimulating food and a few grains of sulphate of iron each, besides having free access at all times to rock salt.

In all cases, however, prevention is better than cure, and the ailments mentioned, as well as most of the other disorders that calves and young cattle are heir to, come under the head of preventable diseases.

STOCK.

THE NORTHWEST STEER.

From the Canadian Ranch to the British Restaurant.

Mr. Morston Frewen need have no doubt that Canadian prairie cattle are both thrifty and profitable. In his interesting article in the Pall Mall Gazette he seems to be astonished at the increased arrivals of Canadians. "These cattle," he remarks, "after being reared some 2,400 miles from Alberta to Montreal, are said to have crossed the Atlantic in fair store condition, mostly bound for Glasgow." And he adds: "It would be exceedingly interesting if some Scotch correspondent would give an opinion as to whether these wild prairie cattle are cheap, thrifty and profitable." Before speaking to this it may be interesting to enquire how these kings of the prairie are brought here and how they are disposed of.

Glasgow is undoubtedly the great reception house for Canadian cattle. In 1887 116,274 cattle were exported from Canada. Of these, 63,622, or a cash value of $5,344,375, were shipped to Great Britain; and fully one-half of that number were landed at Shieldhall, on the Clyde. Shieldhall is a quaint little place on the left bank of the river, and thirty minutes by steamer to the heart of the city. When the century was in its teens this was one of the prettiest villages. The whitewashed wall and crowsfooted gable are still there. So also are some of the old plane trees and elms and drooping ashes. But commerce has thrown her arms around these vestiges of the past, and threatens to demolish them all together.

"Turn to the right as soon as you pass your tree," said a message boy, "and that's the cattle sheds." The lairage is an immense place—well-paved, built of red brick and blue-slatted. It is a model of cleanliness and simple construction. The wharf is broad and of considerable length, though the actual landing place is of limited extent. The gangways, gates and passages are so arranged that an Allan liner carrying 700 or 800 head can be discharged in half an hour. So soon as the cattle are put ashore, they are driven up a long passage to the byres. These are spacious sheds, well lighted and well furnished, the troughs, ropes and other gear being of the most approved type. The scene is very lively after an ocean liner has discharged her cargo. Men in blue coats reaching down to their knees are bustling about in all directions, getting the cattle into the pens, tying them to the boxes, and otherwise making preparations for the arrival of the Privy Council inspector. This official makes his appearance, attended on occasions by assistants and veterinary students. After going round the stalls, examining every animal more or less minutely, he gives in his written declaration to the Custom house authorities, testifying that every beast is sound or unsound, as the case may be. Should an animal be suffering from pleuropneumonia it is taken at once to the slaughter house and destroyed; 2,100 head can be accommodated at the lairage in a strait. There are two distinct divisions—indeed, everything is duplicated—so that if a cargo came from Quebec infected with cattle-plague, it could be kept quite apart from a healthy Halifax lot. Sheep are accommodated in open pens between the cattle-sheds.

The real busy season at Shieldhall commences in May and lasts to the end of autumn, when as many as 30,000 head may have passed through the gates. And where do they go? Between June and November there are always to the fore in the Glasgow cattle market, the chief auctioneers there bring hundreds to the hammer every week. The Swans have been known to put 800 through their hands in a day, Robertson and Johnson 500, and Neilson 400.

Speaking generally, the Canadians when brought to the market direct from the ship are in fair condition. With such a variety of breeds one must expect variety of quality. During the greater part of the season the heaves are fat and ready for the shambles. Any butcher accustomed to deal in them will tell you they are first rate beef. During the summer it is served at our private tables and restaurants every day. There are those who prefer the home fed article, but nine out of ten could not tell the difference between the two. As in other saleable commodities, the prices vary according to the supply and demand. For example, on June 13th last year, when there were 1,206 head on the market, the best Canadians were realizing 52s to 58 per cent. On other occasions the quotations rose to 66s. But, taken all over for trade purposes, there is no better paying animal than the ranch ox.

Of course they are largely bought for feeding. Big herds go regularly to the north as well as to the south of Scotland, and to the pastures north of the Tyne. They are capital feeders, and with a little attention take on flesh rapidly. Two months will make most of them fat and sleek, so that cattle which were bought from £10 to £14 a head may, after a run on Scotch pastures, come back to the market and yield a fair profit. After consultation with some of the leading buyers and stock raisers, I do not hesitate to repeat that those prairie cattle from the ranches of the far west are as good an investment as the British farmer can make in these precarious days. That they are cheap nobody who reads his newspaper can doubt; that they are thrifty is the verdict of all who have made a fair trial of them, and that they are profitable is evidenced by the increased demand for them every year. If (as Mr. Macdonald asserts in his recent contribution to encyclopaedic literature) the essence of the feeder's art is to produce the maximum quantity of first class meat in the shortest possible time and at the lowest possible cost, then these hardy Canadians beat every competitor in the field.

Praise for Alberta Cattle.
To the Editor of the HERALD AND ALBERTA LIVE STOCK JOURNAL.

DEAR SIR,—As you take a deep interest in the progress of this great country and in the development of its resources, it will be gratifying to you and to all others interested to know that Canadian cattle are highly thought of by leading agriculturists in the old country. I extract the following from the "Inverness Courier" of the 19th April, one of the best provincial papers in Scotland:—"Annual exhibition and sale of fat stock at Perth. A special prize was given for the first time this year for home fed Canadian bullocks, which brought forward over fifty head of cattle. As a rule these cattle have left plenty of payment this season to the feeder, and in many cases have been a great help to make up for small profits in other classes of feeding cattle. Best four, home-fed Canadian bullocks, 1st Mr. Macfarlane, Westharrow, sold for £24 17.6; 2nd Mr. Taylor, Dalbally, £23 12.6, very highly commended; Mr. Anderson, Middlebank, £25 0.0 each, highly commended; Mr. Walker, Kingston, £23 15, commended; Mr. Weddopson, Wallaceston, other 36 competing in this class made from £21 7.6 to £23 12.6 each."

The above report must be satisfactory to Mr. Stimson, Mr. Barker and other extensive ranchers in the west, who exported their first consignment last season. The report of live stock from Canada is now an important branch of trade and the Dominion Government deserves great credit for their wise policy in the continued enforcement of precautionary measures, despite repeated applications for relaxation, in keeping the country free from disease. So long as British feeders and butchers know they are safe in this respect, they will continue to be the best customers for Canadian cattle, and I have no doubt that stock raisers in this country will endeavor to retain their good opinion by supplying them with stock of the best quality, this being of course naturally advantageous. The maw of the great city of London is open for an unlimited number, and both Scotch and English farmers much prefer to buy from their Canadian friends, being always more or less suspicious in their dealings in cattle with foreigners. Your insertion of the above will oblige your old townsman

J. GRANT MACKAY.

Salisbury, Assn., 21st April.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Full Arrangements Made to Receive the Excursionists.
(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The meeting called by the mayor at the request of several citizens took place as announced in the council chamber. There was a fair attendance though not as large as could have been expected, considering the importance of the subject which the people were brought together to consider, namely, receiving the expected excursionists from Ontario, within the next few days. Mayor Marsh called the meeting to order about 8 o'clock, and Councillor Fitzgerald was appointed secretary. His Worship after briefly stating the object of the meeting, called on Mr. Amos Rowe, president of the Agricultural Society to address the meeting.

Mr. Rowe said, you are all well aware of the purpose for which the meeting had been called and that he believed the question of doing something in the way of showing the expected excursionists the country around Calgary had originated with members of the town council, and he was aware that a committee of the council had met the Directors of the Agricultural Society and discussed the subject together. Mr. Rowe stated that he had written to Mr. Fred White, comptroller of the N. W.M.P., asking for the use of the police teams to take the visitors into the country, but had received the reply that he could not grant them. He had also written H. H. Smith, Dominion Lands Commissioner, for assistance and received the reply that he had referred the matter to Ottawa. The speaker said he had heard that about 1,000 people would leave Toronto on the first excursion, and that a large number of them would come as far as Calgary as the fare was so low, and that some provision should certainly be made for showing them the country. He objected to the proposition of using the $500 or any part of it which had been granted by the town council to the Agricultural Society for this purpose, as it was all needed and more too for prize money for the fall show, and he as president of that society would reluctantly part with any portion of the $500.

Mr. James Bailey next addressed the meeting, going into the matter in a business like manner, which our limited space forbids publishing in full. He criticized very severely the action of the signers of the requisition to the mayor to call the meeting, in not being present themselves, or at least so few of them. He said the apathy of some people when so vital a matter was to be considered, was criminal to the best interests of the town and country. The members of the Legislative Assembly for Alberta were both in town and neither of them took enough interest in the district the people had elected them to represent to come down to this meeting, and take any part in so important a movement. He was glad, however, that there were enough present to fairly represent the citizens as to the duty of the council, and he would therefore move that the council be asked to grant $200 towards defraying the expenses of receiving the excursionists, and he thought considerable more could be done in other ways.

This motion was seconded by Mr. H. Douglas, who said he thought we could not do too much in the way of giving the excursionists information, as it would all be returned many fold.

Councillor Grant moved an amendment which he afterwards withdrew and the original was carried with the understanding that the Agricultural Society would give $100, and the committee should secure all the help they could in the way of teams, etc., besides.

Mr. A. Kennedy said he expected five or six acquaintances from the east to see the country, who he would entertain as well as he could and willing to pay his share of the taxes for the grant that the council was to make besides.

Mr. Braden said he looked on the matter from a business point of view. Manitoba and other parts of the country had profited immensely from having farmers visit these places on similar excursions in the past and were now getting great numbers of these same visitors as settlers. This being the first time in our history when an opportunity was afforded the people of the east to come here at a reasonable fare, we should make the most of the situation and we would reap manyfold the small amount we might now spend, in getting the country settled up.

Mr. Sparrow gave a statement of what had been done at the joint committee meetings. He was opposed to using the $500 given the Agricultural Society and supported the proposition for the town to make a grant.

Councillors Buannerman, Grant, Fitzgerald and Orr all spoke in favor of making an effort to entertain the visitors in a becoming manner, and said they would support the grant of $200 by the Council.

Councillor Orr said he had received word today from Robert Kerr, general passenger agent at Winnipeg, that he would wire the Mayor on the day after the first excursion left Toronto, how many tickets there were for Calgary.

It was resolved that the Mayor be chairman of the joint executive committee. His Worship announced that a meeting of the committee would be held at Councillor Fitzgerald's office at 2 p. m. today, Tuesday.

The meeting then adjourned.

Returned From Chicago.

Messrs. Peter McCarthy and H. B. Alexander have returned from their trip to Chicago, where they went to purchase machinery for a smelter to work up the ore from the silver mines at Mount Stephen, B. C. They procured all the plant in Chicago, which cannot be got in Canada, and are now, we understand, ready to go on with building as soon as the site of the works is decided upon. The machinery purchased includes an ore crusher, a pair of rollers for pulverizing the ore after crushing, roasting furnaces with engine and boiler complete. The advantage of having this smelter located at Calgary would doubtless be very great and would no doubt be of great advantage to the company as compared with sticking it away in some hole in the mountains. Cannot something be done to get this company to locate in Calgary?

Caught on the Bridge.

MEDICINE HAT, 3.—An Icelandic named Johnson was caught on the bridge here on Saturday by the Atlantic express. Both legs were taken off. He succumbed to his wounds on Sunday.

A Railway Movement.

(From Monday's Daily.)

A railway exploring party went north this morning in connection with the Red Deer Valley enterprise. The party comprises Mr. D. G. Neame, representing the English capitalists who propose to furnish the means of war for the work of constructing the road. Mr. J. Ick Evans, of Toronto, the Canadian promoter of the scheme, also Mr. Evans' son, Messrs H. P. and W. Withers and Mr. T. B. Laferty, of Calgary, local solicitor for the company, also cooks, camp men etc. The party propose reaching Mr. Johnson's ranch tonight, and tomorrow proceed to the Rosebud river, where they will erect their tents and reconnoitre the country about the coal mines and as far as the Red Deer river, some 60 miles from Calgary. Mr. Brereton, the mining expert of the company, is at present at the Pacific Coast, but will return to Calgary in ten days or so to meet the above party on their return from the Rosebud. If Mr. Neame is satisfied with the looks of things and the prospects generally, a conference will be held after they come back with the holders of the Calgary and Montana Railway charter with a view of making arrangements to build on that charter from Calgary to the frontier. The Red Deer company now own a charter from Calgary to the Red Deer river.

CRICKET.

An Interesting Match Played on Saturday the N. W. M. P. vs. Town Club.

(From Monday's Daily.)

The first game of cricket of the season between "E" Division N.W.M.P., and the Town of Calgary was played on Saturday afternoon on the grounds southwest of the immigration house. Play began about 2 o'clock and proved a very interesting contest. Calgary went first to the bat and were disposed of for a total of 29 runs. In this innings Mr. Nelson's 15 and Insp. Williams' 5 were the highest scores. The N. W. M. P. in their first innings put together 67. Constable Reading played well for 28. In the second innings Calgary played considerably better. Wade 23, Prothero 25 and Nelson 16 were the top scores. The police went in for the second innings with 47 runs to make to get even with the town. The first two balls bowled by Mr. Nelson proved too much for the batters and the police had to man out with no runs. But the police got down to work and Hunt's 17, Reading's 14 and Bloomfield's 11 were made in good style. The game was lost by the town through the muffing of a beautiful "sky scraper" hit by Constable Hunt. The following is the score:—

Distinguished Visitors.

(From Friday's Daily.)

At 3:30 p. m. the private train of Dr. Webb steamed into Calgary station from the west. The party on board are Dr. W. S. Webb, president of the Wagner Palace Car company, and Mrs. Webb, their three children and three maids in waiting, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Purley, Dr. C. W. McLean, Mr. George Birce, Mr. Julian Kene and Mr. Frank Webb, all of New York city. There were also a manager and conductor, with a full list of Cooks, dining room waiters etc., etc. Since we noted the passage of this fine train westward a few weeks ago, the party have been through British Columbia and from Victoria up to Alaska by the steamer Islander. After returning from Alaska, they went down by the new Union Pacific line which runs through the heart of the Rocky Mountains longitudinally to California and as far as Los Angeles returning to British Columbia they started homeward over the C. P. R., taking in the points of interest in the Canadian Rockies to Banff, which place they left at 1 p. m. today, arriving here as above noted. The party were met on by his worship the Mayor and several other gentlemen with carriages for the purpose of taking the ladies and gents out for a drive. Dr. and Mrs. Webb, Dr. MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. Purley and Mr. Webb went for a short drive round town in company with the Mayor, Major Walker, Mr. Reilly and Mr. J. L. Bowen. During the time the visitors were here, the British and American flags were run up to top mast on most of the shops and offices in town. The outside of the 4 cars comprising the train is very fine, but the inside is simply gorgeous, having everything to promote comfort usually found in best furnished houses of an American city. Supt. Niblock, of the C. P. R., accompanied the party over this division of the road. The train pulled out at 3:40. The next stopping place will be at Medicine Hat.

Brewery Seized.

We notice by the Moose Jaw Times that the brewery in that town owned by Mr. O. H. Allan of Calgary, and rented to Mr. T. Townsend, has been seized for an alleged infraction of the law by the lessee, who claims he was making nothing which in anyway violated the laws of the land. The Times very wisely asks when will the law be made plain and so interpreted that people who have no desire to break the law may know what the law contemplates that they may or may not do.

Arrested.

Our attention has been arrested by the display of condiments in the window of Fred. Gillespie, the Tea Merchant. These condiments and preserves have been imported direct from Bombay, India, by Mr. Gillespie, who has had a large experience in these goods in London and consequently only imports the best goods. He has four distinct varieties of "Chutneys," including Tirkoot and the celebrated Major Gray Chutneys, also genuine Gurva Jelly and Chrystalized Ginger. Mr. Gillespie has earned the thanks of all, but especially of the many English people living here who have been accustomed to those high class goods at home and hitherto have not been able to obtain them in this new land. The taste of the most fastidious, be they English or Canadian, will be gratified in the use of these East India goods.

THE CITY FATHERS.

Met Last Night and Transacted Important Business.

(From Friday's Daily.)

The regular meeting which should have been held on last Tuesday evening, but which was adjourned for want of a quorum, was held last night in the council chamber at 8 o'clock. There were present his worship, Daniel Webster Marsh, councillors King, Orr and Murdoch, barely enough to form a quorum. The minutes of the last regular and one special meeting were read and adopted.

Communications were read from Mr. J. W. Compton, care taker of the Elbow bridge, calling attention to the importance of piling up some boulders around the shore piers of the bridge to protect them against the action of the floods. This matter was referred to the chairman on public works.

A letter was read from the Rev. A. W. F. Cooper, asking that aid be granted to Mrs. Twiddle, who is in indigent circumstances, and whose husband is in jail. The Mayor was authorized to act in the matter and grant such relief as he finds necessary.

A letter was read from general superintendent Whyte, of the C. P. R., to the Mayor in reply to a letter from the Mayor about streets crossing the C. P. R. track. Mr. Whyte says he will be in Calgary soon and will take the matter up with the council.

A communication was read from Loughheed, McCarthy & Beck, on behalf of Mr. A. D. Braithwaite, asking the council to write off certain taxes now standing against lots formerly owned or claimed by O'Keefe, but now the property of Mr. Braithwaite. The assessment of which lots is claimed to be illegal. The matter was referred to the executive and finance committee.

A letter was read from a party in Toronto named Allan McDougall, offering his services as sanitary engineer to the town, and giving particulars of his experience in that line in other cities. This letter was ordered to be filed.

A reply was read from Wm. Pearce Esq., member of the Dominion land board, saying that he had referred the request of the council that certain parts of the Government reserve on section 16 be granted to the town for waterworks purposes, to the department of the Interior.

Several accounts were read and referred to the proper committees.

A petition was presented to the Mayor and Council from Mr. J. C. Fowhan and several other residents south of the railway track, for a side walk on Oiler Street from the railway crossing southward to Van Horne Avenue. This petition was referred to the committee on public works, to report at next meeting of the council.

A petition was presented, signed by Joseph Maw and several others, asking the Mayor and Council to call a public meeting at an early date to provide means for and adopt methods of relieving the excursionists, who are expected to visit Calgary in June. Consideration of the petition was deferred until the report of committee on immigration on the same subject had been received and read. Chairman Murdoch then brought in his report of the joint meeting of the Agricultural Society and committee of the Council. The report is too long to publish at length, but stated that a committee consisting of Major Walker, James Reilly, Joseph Maw, and George Murdoch had been appointed to confer with a committee to be appointed by the Board of Trade and a committee from the Town Council, the whole to form a committee on ways and means. The question of calling a public meeting was considered. It was the opinion of the majority of the Council present that in view of what had already been done, that it was scarcely necessary to call a public meeting. The matter was left in the hands of the mayor, who agreed to see the petitioners to-day and if they still thought it necessary, he said he would call a public meeting at once. That portion of chairman Murdoch's report referring to the proposed market, was, on motion of King and Orr, held over to be considered at a fuller meeting of the Council, the remainder of the report was adopted.

The executive and finance committee reported in favor of paying the following amounts:

Calgary Lumber Co.....	$ 4.40
James Fraser.....	22.00
Wm. Leagat.....	12.00
P. Sullivan.....	98.60

Pay sheet for May.....	275.00
C. Sparrow for sewing and for collectors bonds.....	260.00
Last payment on fire hall lots.....	241.70

The amount of P. Sullivan's account is not to be paid till he has cleaned up the boulders dropped by him on the streets, as per contract.

By-law No. 104 was introduced and put through. This was to authorize the Mayor and clerk to borrow the sum of $5,000 to delay necessary expenditure till the taxes of 1889 can be collected.

Mr. R. J. Ogburn and Mr. S. Parrish appeared before the Council, asking permission to make some alterations at the Palace Hotel. Their request was referred to the fire, water and light committee.

A resolution was passed that the Council should sit as a court of revision on the 20th of June at 2 o'clock in the council chamber. The Council then adjourned at 9:30.

CRICKET.

"B" Division N. W. M. P. 1st Eleven vs. the Next 22 of "A" Division.
[From Friday's Daily.]

The cricket season for 1890 at Calgary opened on the 29th inst. A good game was played resulting in a victory on the 1st innings for the eleven by 53 runs. The eleven this season is a strong one and the match with the Calgary eleven tomorrow should be a hard fight.

Let us hope a little more interest will be taken in the game this season and more matches be arranged than in the previous seasons. There are plenty of good cricket players in and around Calgary and with the players of the N. W. M. P., such matches as married vs. single, north vs. south, the Old Country vs. the new, etc., could easily be arranged.

Died Far From Home.
[From Thursday's Daily.]

A lady died this morning at the Windsor Hotel at 14.30 o'clock, her name is Mrs. Hutton and her age thirty two years. She formerly resided at Thorbury which is a station on the old Northern Railway, now Grand Trunk between the towns of Collingwood and Meaford, Ont. More recently she lived in the Northwest, some 18 miles from Edmonton, where her husband, (so far as is known here, still resides). About a year ago she went to Ontario, hoping the change would improve her failing health. A short time ago she started from Thorbury to return to her home near Edmonton. She reached here on the 20th inst., putting up at the Windsor Hotel; but suffering from that treacherous disease, consumption, she soon grew worse and too weak to move about. Dr. Fare was called in and attended her regularly three or four times a day. The land lady was most attentive to the sick woman, while the Rev. J. F. Betts ministered to her spiritual comfort. The deceased expected her husband to meet her at Calgary, but though Mr. Donohue telegraphed three times to Edmonton, no reply has been received. If no word is received from her friends before tomorrow at two o'clock, she will be interred in the protestant cemetery, by order of the Mayor.

SIR LEONARD TILLEY.

He is Delighted With the Town.
[From Thursday's Daily.]

The Hon. Sir Samuel L. Tilley, C. B., K. C. M. G., Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick, arrived in Calgary by No. one express train this morning. Accompanying Sir Leonard are Dr. Bayard, of St. John's, N. B., and Sir Leonard's son, Mr. L. P. D. Tilley. The party occupy Supt. Nitlock's private car. The gallant Knight was up by times this morning, the sun being bright and the sky clear at six o'clock, and took a stroll through our principal streets and avenues, returning to their car before the rain came on at eight o'clock. The Doctor is one of the oldest practitioners in Canada, as we remember his having been honored some time ago on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of his professional career. As it was raining and Sir Leonard's stay in town was to be very short and part of the town council being away at the Coast, no formal address was attempted by the Council, but at 9:30 a. m. his worship Mayor Marsh, John Lincham, M. L. A., Councillors Orr and Murdoch, called on the party in their car and were most courteously received by Sir Leonard and party. A pleasant half hour was spent with the veteran statesman, who evinced a deep interest in the country by asking questions in reference to the climate, soil, products and general resources of the district. He said he had understood that there was no doubt of the superiority of the district for raising cattle, but on the question of cereals he was not so well informed. Councillor Orr, who represented the Herald, went well fortified on that question, taking with him samples of spring wheat, oats and barley, grown in the immediate vicinity of Calgary, also a large piece of coal, being a specimen from what is drawn into town by the farmers at Sheep Creek. The whole party were very much interested in the samples of grain, pronouncing them very superior to anything they had been shown in Manitoba, and what they were not at all prepared to see in this so called ranch country.

Speaking of the townsite of Calgary, Sir Leonard said it could not be surpassed for beauty and natural adaptation for a city. About 10:30 the clouds cleared away and His Worship, together with Mr. Lincham and Mr. Loughed took the distinguished visitors out for a drive round the outskirts of the town, which they enjoyed very much. During the forenoon several prominent citizens called on our visitors, amongst whom we noticed Mr. Braden, of the Tribune, Mr. E. R. Rogers, Mr. Amos Rowe, ex-Judge Travis et al. Rather a pleasant incident occurred when Councillor Murdoch entered the car this morning, Sir Leonard reached out his hand in the most cordial manner and said: "Well George, how do you do?"

The party left about 1:30, their car being attached to a mixed train, so they will make the entrance to the mountains in daylight.

Queensdown Colony.
(From Thursday's Daily.)

We were favored with a call yesterday from Capt. E. G. Dawson, manager of the Queensdown colony, near Cluny' on the C. P. R. The old Captain is in high glee over the prospects of the crops this year and the general progress the colony is making. He expresses a feeling of entire confidence that the colony will prove a grand success and that the gentlemen in the old country who supplied the capital will ultimately reap large benefits from their investment. There seems no doubt from unmistakable indications that there are immense beds of coal underlying the colony. The Captain is going to make a test at an early date. One thing which goes a long way to prove the warm and growing quality of the soil is that on Her Majesty's birthday they had Windsor beans, one of the tenderest of plants, fifteen inches high and in full bloom at the time.

Runaway.
(From Wednesday's Daily.)

A runaway of the most original character enlivened the environs of I. G. Baker & Co's. shop and warehouse this morning. A horse which was being harnessed with another one at Armstrong's livery stable broke away from the man in charge with the harness partly on it. The animal finding itself free, made a dash down McTavish street through the thick of the people, and turning sharp round ran madly into I. G. Baker & Co's front door, smashing the large plate glass in one half of the double door into a thousand fragments. On it kept, down the right hand side of the store, clearing the fixed stools as though they had been hurdles, (all but one, which was knocked down.) He next attempted to play hide and go seek, by trying to get down cellar, not finding that practicable, he made his exit by the back door of the main building into the warehouse at the rear, leaving word at the office as he passed that he would call again. In the mean time the Chief of Police seized the horse in the back warehouse by some of the dangling harness and held him till an owner came. Had the runaway occurred in the afternoon when the stools along the counter are usually occupied by lady customers, very serious harm might have resulted.

NORTHWEST SETTLEMENT.

A Comparison Instituted Between the United States and Canada.
(From Thursday's Daily.)

The Dominion Statistician writes the following letter to the Ottawa Citizen:—

SIR.—In consequence of an interview published in your Journal, several correspondents have written me asking two questions: 1st, Why Canada's Northwest has not increased in population as rapidly as the United States domain? 2nd, Why the farmer of the United States as a body, are in less prosperous circumstances than the farmers of Ontario?

I did not bargain for so much additional work when the interview was published but the questions are important ones, and it would ill-become me to shirk, them in the circumstances. Will you, therefore, kindly give space in the next issue to discuss the first question?

First, I ask is it so? Now, how shall we go to work to find out? Well, the proper way, it seems to me, is to examine the records. These show that the United States formed a Union in 1787; that by 1789 thirteen States had ratified the constitution and secured a President. These thirteen States had their metes and bounds. Some of them cast off portions of their territory to form new States—as Massachusetts, out of which Maine was carved, and Virginia, out of which West Virginia and Tennessee were formed. Other outlying regions were purchased, or otherwise obtained, as California, Louisiana and Texas. The remainder formed the unorganized territory, to which settlement was to be directed, just as our Manitoba and Northwest Territories have constituted, since July, 1870, the region in which we Canadians have had to try our hand at colonizing.

To find out which country settled its lying territory the more rapidly, we may take the first 23 years of the United States' possession of their outlying domain and compare the development of that domain with the development which has taken place in our Northwest during Canada's nineteen years possession of her outlying territory. This is hardly fair to Canada because it gives the United States four years longer for their efforts than it gives Canada. But we have the record, supplied by their own hand, of the population in 1810. We will give the United States the advantage of four years longer record than we can give Canada and we will say nothing about it.

At the end of the first 23 years (from 1879 to 1810) Alabama, Arkansas, Indiana, Michigan, Florida, Missouri, Arizona

Dakota, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, Oregon, Wisconsin and Colorado (which States and Territories comprise the unoccupied domain of the original States at the time of their union) had a population of 62,409 all told. The four million people in the original States had managed in twenty-three years to plant colonies throughout their outlying domain, aggregating a population of 62,409 souls.

Now, what has Canada done in the 19 years of her possession of the Northwest? Taking the population in 1871, we had within our borders 3,600 souls—four hundred thousand fewer than the United States when they began colonising operations in their outlying public domain. The 3,600,000 persons have secured for Manitoba and the Northwest in nineteen years a white population of 180,000 souls. In a word, we have managed our colonizations so well that we have in nineteen years beaten the United States' record of twenty three years, three to one. Where they planted one settler, we have planted three.

In the face of those facts I cannot agree with those correspondents who, by asking why Canada has not increased her Northwest population as rapidly as the United States' outlying regions increased, imply that she has not. We have been very much more successful than our neighbors, and there are the records to show it.
Yours &c.,
GEORGE JOHNSON.

Death of a Millionaire.
(From Friday's Daily.)

Mr. J. Theophorus Demers, familiarly known as Jack Demers, died recently at Frenchtown, Mont., worth over a million dollars at the age of 54 years. Mr. Demers was a native of the County of La Prairie, in the Province of Quebec. When a mere boy he left his native province for the far and almost unknown west, where he at once began speculating, contracting &c., which considering the limited amount of settlement and money out there at that time was rather risky, but he succeeded well. He married for his first wife A. Mettise. His second wife was a Miss Garnot, sister of Garnot who figured as Secretary to Louis Riel in the late rebellion. He leaves a widow and several children to enjoy his wealth. The deceased was well known to several gentlemen in Calgary, amongst whom are His Lordship Judge Rouleau, Mr. James Reilly, Mr. J. L. Bowen and Mr. Cyr Miquelon.

Mr. Geo. Broughall, manager of "The Equitable Life Assurance Society" of New York is in the city. He is on his way back from the coast.

We have good authority for saying that a branch of an eastern wholesale grocery business will be opened in Calgary at an early date.

Councillor Grant returned from his visit to Victoria this morning and reports having enjoyed himself very largely. Councillor Fitzgerald and Mrs. Fitzgerald will return tomorrow morning.

Dr. N. J. Lindsay returned from his Queen's birthday trip to Vancouver and Victoria this morning, and looks none the worse for inhaling the air of the ocean.

The grading down of McIntyre Avenue, between McTavish and Scarth street, is nearly finished. This is the heaviest cutting ever done on the streets of Calgary.

The Manufacturers Life and Accident Company, of which Mr. R. J. Ogburn is general agent, and Mr. George Murdoch local agent, have opened a very neat office on McTavish street, near Skinner's Dining Hall.

Scarth Street, from McIntyre Avenue to Angus Avenue, has received a coat of gravel about a foot deep on an average, and as soon as some top dressing can be put on, will make a fine solid piece of street.

In the telegraph report of the Grand Lecturers appointed by the Orange Lodge which has just closed its session at Goderich, published in the Herald yesterday, the name of James H. Mills was given for Calgary. It should have been Joseph H. Millward.

We were shown to-day two samples of this spring's grain, which have been sent to Mr. Miquelon, which will give a fair idea of how the crops are progressing in the district. One of these is a bunch of wheat grown by Mr. Stewart, near the Industrial School, High River, it measures seventeen inches, not including the roots, and is strong and healthy in the blade. From present appearance it will be headed out in ten days. The other is a sample of barley grown at the Industrial School, High River, it is just about the same length as the wheat and is an equally healthy plant. There are six acres each of the wheat and barley, and we are assured the whole of it is of uniform healthy growth.

Monday.

The new Masonic Hall at Medicine Hat will be dedicated tomorrow afternoon.

The foundation stone of the new hospital at Medicine Hat will be laid with Masonic honors on Wednesday.

Councillor Fitzgerald and Mrs. Fitzgerald returned from their trip to Vancouver and Victoria yesterday morning.

George Murdoch, J. P., and Dr. N. J. Lindsay expect to start tonight by No. 2 express for Medicine Hat to attend a meeting of the Masonic Lodge at that town on Tuesday night. There must be some squarers to be compassed down there.

Mr. A. W. Bush of Mico, Michigan, who when on his way to Portland, Oregon, was laid up at the Palace Hotel in Calgary with a carbuncle, and when he got sufficiently better went to Portland, returned to Calgary by this morning's No. 2 express and is stopping at the Palace.

An accident occurred at Medicine Hat to a passenger on the express train which got on here Sunday morning. As the train was crossing the iron bridge over the Saskatchewan a man stepped or fell off the train down on the bridge. The dining car and sleeper both passed over him covering both legs, he was carried back to the Hat and cared for, but was not expected to live when our report was forwarded.

A very large time is expected by the brethren of the I. O. O. F. at our sister city on Wednesday night. Deputy District Grand Sir George Murdoch, who will be at the Hat on Tuesday evening attending a Masonic assembly will remain for Wednesday night. A staff of officers will go from here on Tuesday night to meet Bro. Murdoch at the Hat for the purpose of installing and initiating new lodge No. 4 in their new hall.

Messrs Gaskela and Bordridge whom we stated a few days ago had returned from a fruitless hunt for land at the coast, have since been out in the direction of Red Deer where they had no difficulty in procuring land to suit them. They have made entries for the land and will bring their families from the Old Country this fall to settle permanently in Alberta.

The funeral of the late Mrs. George Hutton took place on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the Windsor Hotel, Atlantic Avenue, to the Calgary cemetery. The Rev. J. F. Betts, Methodist Minister, conducted the burial service at the grave. Considering that the lady was almost an entire stranger in town, there was a fair attendance of citizens at the funeral.

Tuesday.

Sir John Lester Kaye, accompanied by the London representative of the company, arrived in Sir John's private car "Nitica" this morning.

Mr. Amos Rowe and Mr. George Murdoch went to Medicine Hat by No. two express this morning to assist in dedicating the new Masonic Hall at that town.

Special attention is called to the advertisement in today's Herald and the posters in reference to Mr. Hodder's sale of thoroughbred cattle, which will take place at McNaughton's stable, Calgary, on the 12th of June, which affords an opportunity of securing first class stock.

Horse racing and betting was indulged in yesterday afternoon on the plateau north of the Bow river, near Langevin bridge. Several hundred native Americans with their native ponies were on ground. The racing was witnessed by many dusky maidens of the prairie. After the races were over, some of the prize winners sold to the white boys of Calgary for from $20 to $50 each.

Major Alexander McGibbon, associate inspector of Indian agencies in the Northwest, gave us a pleasant call today. The work of the department is divided between Mr. McGibbon and Mr. L. P. Wadsworth. The former from the Commercial Metropolis of Canada and the latter from the Queen City of Ontario. Mr. McGibbon is brimful of Montreal history, making it very interesting to one who has known the city well since 1839, to have a chat with him.

The following real estate sales were made yesterday by G. C. Marsh: Lots 31 and 32 in block 50, Stephen Avenue, where the Dominion Land Office stands, without the buildings, 50 feet front, for the sum of $5,000, to Mr. Frank Pershouse. Mr. Marsh also sold lots 37 and 38, block 49, Stephen Avenue, just east of Ford's stable, 50 feet front, for $2,500. It is also reported that Mr. Geo. K. Leeson sold one lot, 25 feet front, on Stephen Avenue, just west of Jacques, the jeweller's, for $3,000. These figures look pretty healthy to the faith of Calgaryans in the future.

A committee room has been opened at the office of Mr. Fitzgerald and a subscription list placed there, where parties who will kindly contribute in aid of the fund for the entertainment of the Ontario excursionists, will please record their names at once. A list is also placed there for such persons as will furnish teams for the occasion. It is requested that all persons who can assist in that way will put down their names without delay, stating the capacity of their rigs and the length of time they will be placed at the disposal of the committee, and if drivers will be furnished.

A man named James Gane at Laggan made his will yesterday and repented at night. He had been ailing for some time and had a bottle of liniment which he was using from. By mistake, or otherwise, he swallowed the whole of the liniment and soon came to the conclusion that he was about to migrate to the world of the unknown. Dr. Lindsay of Calgary, was telegraphed to, who prescribed for the sufferer over the wire. During the man's suffering, he made his will and bequeathed a twenty dollar gold piece each to his two friends, but finding the doctor had cured him, he came to the conclusion he might want the gold himself some wet day. He found however that his friends were very much disappointed at his deciding not to die at present, and reluctantly gave back the shining coin.

An Indian funeral took place at the Blackfoot reserve, Gleichen, last week, in which some of the old Indian customs were brought out strikingly. Jack Lowhorn, youngest son of old Chief Lowhorn, died after a lingering illness of a year. The funeral was attended by great numbers of Indians and as much ceremony indulged in as should bury a prince of the "Blood Royal." The dead Indian was well equipped with implements for the chase in the "happy hunting grounds." A fine sorrel horse which he used to ride, was shot and buried with him, while his three best wives had the first joint cut from one of their little fingers and consigned to the grave with the body of their departed brave.
